December Update 2019 | Keap ∞

This article applies to:

During the month of December, we have been focused on the quality of our software. While we don't have any new updates to share at this time, know that we're busy building new features and enhancements in the product that we're excited to share with you in 2020!