Forms update: More style options for your public forms

You now have more control over the look and feel of your public forms. You can choose your form's background color, whether to display or hide your logo, and how your submit button is styled. All of these changes make public forms embedded on your website look seamless to visitors. Learn more.

Forms update: Templates for new forms

Save time with our new internal and public form templates. Each template is tailored to a specific use, from collecting shipping addresses to contact forms. After you get started with a template, you can customize the form to capture the specific information your business needs.

Contacts update: Find anyone that's missing key contact information with filters

Your contact filter includes new "is empty" and "is filled" options for email, phone, and fax numbers. You can use these options to see which of your contacts are missing crucial pieces of information, then follow up with them to make sure you have all their information on hand. Learn more.

Appointments update: Time zone settings

Now you can control the time zone your Appointments display in, no matter where you are in the world. No matter where you are in the world, you can have confidence that you're scheduling appointments for times you'll be available. Invitees will continue to see your availability based on their time zone. Learn more.

Bug fixes

- When creating a new tag in Advanced Automation's Apply/Remove Tag process, the field to enter a new category was not being displayed. (Known Issue 2364456)
