Bug fixes

- If you clicked done without toggling from draft to ready in an advanced automation email, the email wasn't marked as ready and edits weren't published.
 - The name field in the credit card info section of a checkout form wasn't mapping data correctly when there was a middle name or initial included.
 - When clicking the red "Yes, cancel it" button to cancel an appointment, it failed. There was a "There was an issue canceling the appointment, please try again in a few minutes" banner at the top of the page.
